Call to Ministry (max. 2000 characters)

During my time at Grace & Holy Trinity I have discerned a call to educational ministries outside parochial settings. My passions lie in theological education, particularly in working with fellow laypeople to provide opportunities for understanding the Church's rich theological heritage which is so often inaccessible to all but the highly educated/credentialed. My long term goals include earning a research doctorate in theology (e.g. PhD or ThD) which, if I am working a full-time job, would likely be accomplished through distance supervision from a Commonwealth university (e.g. University of St. Andrews in Scotland), but I am open to the way in which this work might be used in the service of the Church.
